MERV 11 PARTICLE SIZE EFFICIENCY

TESTING STANDARDS - ASHRAE 52.2 (MERV)

Minimum Efficiency Reporting Value (MERV) is a value expressed on a 16 point scale to reference appropriate particular matter removed in 3 different range groups. The higher the MERV rating, the greater the percentage of particles captured on each pass. This testing method is conducted at seven different airflow rates, with the final resistance being twice that of the initial resistance.
